

ANNKIDA

Annkida, the city floating the new concept revolutionary who floating city !

A new concept to save the world !

Everybody you says that you not get down don't stay on the ground, that you have are high in the sky, then Annkida is for you !

The people who live in the city have the advantage to have a forest next to their home with the better air quality than the anothers cities.

The originality of the circular architecture enables a better daily comfort.

Our buildings are made entirely of glass who capture to catch the sunbeams and transform them in electric energy. We have win won the prize of the best city of independent in self-sufficient electric energy.

If I were a city, I'd be Annkida

If I were a park, I'd be an ecological green park

If I were a mode of transport, I'd be an electric flying car

Become Come to live in Annkida
